

JAMHOUSE RECORDS PRESENTS

BUMPS IN THE NIGHT MR. WHIRLY

A NEW SONG BY

OCTOBER 20th, 2015 -- BOSTON, MA --

JAMHOUSE RECORDS, and producer PAT HANLIN have teamed up with soulful indie artist Mr. Whirly to bring you the hottest and spookiest halloween singe you've heard in a frightfully long time!

"...I had a fun little song about being brave that I figured would be on an album someday - but Pat and I talked about working together, and we thought with a little tinkering - this could be a perfect song for halloween - which was only three weeks away!..." - Mr. Whirly

"Josh and I were so excited to get to work on this track! Mr. Whirly's five-star songwriting chops are on full display here, and his offbeat, vocal delivery hits the just the right tone for a spooky song like 'Bumps.' Check it out!!" - Pat Hanlin

A little Tom Waits, a little Gypsy Jazz, "BUMPS IN THE NIGHT" tells the story of a 6 year old declaring bravery - even as the ceepy crawlies close in. The track bumps and rattles along anchored by a classic upright bass, squeaky doors, creaky floors, and a hissing black cat.
