Song for Durdy
Bayramov poem:
To Durdy Bayramov

By Zohre Balayeva

To Durdy Bayramov

Verse 1:

Your world is so very wholesome, so rich.
There is turquoise, amber, agate, and ruby.
There are thoughts of air, and utter vastness.
And lyricism with wings spread free.

Chorus:

There are portraits of idols, workers and friends -
Sketches, still lifes, songs of fields without end.

Verse 2:

Love, warm hearts, a tone gentle and fair:
the vitality of life - real life, not a dream.
There are thoughts, air, and utter vastness.
And lyricism with wings spread free.

Chorus:

Verse 3:

To know a person but have much to learn to know him again and again through his art
A world of soul worth a hundred carats
as turquoise, amber, agat and ruby fade to dark

Chorus:
