

A BAD HAIR DAY (to the tune Farmer in the Dell)

by Ms. Tiyi Schippers

A Bad Hair Day will soon be available in book form. Illustrated by Tiyi it portrays a little girl's delight and then dismay as the animals accumulate in her hair.

There's a bunny in your hair, a bunny in your hair
I wonder how it got in there, the bunny in your hair

Spoken: A bunny? Yes! A bunny!

There's a lizard in your hair, a lizard in your hair
I wonder how it got in there, the lizard in your hair

Spoken: A lizard? Yes, a lizard and a bunny!

There's a kitten in your hair, a kitten in your hair
I wonder how it got in there, the kitten in your hair

Spoken: A kitten? Yes! A kitten and a lizard and a bunny!

There's a turtle in your hair...

There's a snake in your hair...

There's a cow in your hair...

There's a horse in your hair...

There's a fish in your hair...

There's a zebra in your hair...

There's a bear in your hair...

There's a monkey in your hair...

There's a parrot in your hair...

There's an elephant in your hair...

There's a whale in your hair...

A BAD HAIR DAY!!!!!!

Activity Suggestions: Use visuals to help children remember the sequence. Find clip art or photos of animals, laminate the pictures and have each child add the animal in the song as it comes up. Use Velcro to attach the animals to a picture of a child. Point to each animal as they are referenced in the spoken part. Enjoy making animal sounds. Before you start, find out if the children know the names for each animal in the song.
