Dear Hal,

Vienna, November 2nd, 1995

It was such a pleasure to see you in Munich at the breathtaking BROADWAY MUSICAL GALA in honor of your stage anniversary.

You are looking great; your fascinating mission and inspiration keeps you young!

The Gala was a wonderful experience which I will never forget.

The highlights from the most triumphant Broadway productions which have conquered the hearts of millions of people around the world and the cast of the most brilliant stars, the magnificent orchestra under the baton of your Charles who is a genius conductor and last but not least, your presence, made that evening so unique.

Thank you, dear Hal, for all the great works which you have brought onto the stage and into the movies. These are immortal masterpieces, each and everyone a precious jewel in the crown of the legendary Broadway productions.

We must be grateful that God gave us men like you who brighten the lives of so many people.

Dear Hal, you can be very proud of your son Charles. He already is a great conductor. His conducting patterns are so elegant and one can feel that invisible link with the orchestra and the singers. I am certain he will make a world career.

God bless you all!

With best wishes and greetings and many thanks for that wonderful gala evening and for all you gave us as a director and producer, I remain in admiration,

Cordially yours

Einzi
