Dakota Pearl is one of British Columbia's up and coming outlaw/alt country bands. They got their start winning a contest to play Pemberton Music Festival in 2014 and haven't looked back since. They've played at numerous events and festivals, including a second appearance at Pemberton Music Festival in 2015, Rockin' River Music Fest two years in a row, the first ever Kootenay Country Music Festival, the World Ski & Snowboard Festival and the Music City Center in Nashville just to name a few. Their latest album 'Big Mountain Music' was released in the spring of 2017 and earned them a nomination for album/EP of the year by the BC Country Music Association. In 2018, the band focused on highly anticipated local shows and writing new songs. Heading back to the studio in January 2019 with producer Jeff Johnson, they're excited to share new music with you in 2019!
