

Intro: (variations on, depending on part)
Sing (Sing) the Solstice In, (Sing) the Solstice in, (Sing) the Solstice in.

Verse 1 - Tenor tune
Lo for the tiding of the long night moon
Let the sunrise call about the morning soon
Short is the bidding of the fading light
Sing for the coming of the longest night

Verse 2 - Alto 2 tune

North wind tell us what we need to know
When the stars are shining on the midnight snow
All of the branches will be turned to white
Sing for the coming of the longest night

Chorus: (Alto 1 tune)

Womens voices:

A winter day, the summer grass turned hay
Frost in the field 'til the dawn of May
A summer's light never shone as great or as bright
So dance in the shadows of a winter's night

Mens voices:

Winter waits, suns warmth is lost,
The trees stand white with hoary frost,
The fields shine bright in silver light
So dance in the winters night.

Rpt intro

Verse 3 - tenor tune
Lo for the tiding of the long night moon
May the harvest last until the springtime bloom
Home is our comfort at the winter's height
Sing for the coming of the longest night

Verse 4 Alto 2 tune

All of the colours of the sunrise sky
Shine a light upon us, as the day goes by
Sun-setting shadows fading out of sight
Sing for the coming of the longest night

2 x Chorus

A winter day, the summer grass turned hay
Frost in the field 'til the dawn of May
A summer's light never shone as great or as bright
So dance in the shadows of a winter's night
