

Drowning On Dry Land

Lyrics by A.J. Steel and Stephen Allred

Verse

Did you wake to find your Room looks like yesterday
If you could, you'd board a plane
And fly away
Leave this behind
Go where they treat your heart kind

To catch a dream is to try
And catch a moonbeam
You drive to work the
The same way you've always been
Your heart wants more
But your head needs to be sure

Chorus

You're drowning on dry land
Your heart begins to cramp
Your arms they feel like stone
'cause you're drowning on dry land

Verse

You watch the freeway from
High on the overpass
A million cars go screaming past
It's cold and lonely when
Everyone's got somewhere to go

Pushing off to find yourself a quiet bar
Where everyone they wanna know
Who you are
And dreamers dream a
And your dreams shine like a beam

Chorus

You're drowning on dry land
Your heart begins to cramp
Your arms they feel like stone
'cause you're drowning on dry land

Outro

You're drowning on dry land

Your heart begins to cramp
Your arms they feel like stone
'cause you're drowning on dry land
