BIO

Aspen Lourdes, professional singer around the South West/Devon. She attacks the stage with charisma, excitement and a heartfelt voice. The songs she performs and writes are of an Indie/Pop genre, although she also performs modern and contemporary music. She develops a persona on stage that is engaging, funny and entertaining. After winning 'Best Female Vocalist' for the 'South West Entertainment Awards 2016'. She can still display her expression with a band or as a solo artist.

Aspen has had many years of professional singing experience after being introduced to a big agency in the south west at the age of 16. Performing at holiday camps, hotels, bars, NEC in Birmingham, BBC Radio 1 Academy and many more places. Aspen was a part of BBC introducing Devon and Cornwall's Christmas Show and has had a lot of experience being interviewed. She can adapt herself to any environment, understanding the types of audiences and still being able to entertain while being her humorous self. Her raw and unique vocals compliment her soft but gritty guitar structures, which entices audiences in to her original music. From always being a power house girl, she adapts and uses her strong belting vocals for raw emotions within her original sound. Always filling the room with silence after her rich and powerful held notes, leaving the audience with nothing to expect give a huge round of applause.

Aspen usually offers 2x45 minute sets but can cater up to 2x60 minutes, for a solo performance. Her band can perform up to one 45-minute slot, to suit a festival type.

REVIEWS

"Just been listening to Aspen live at White Rock Festival and she is an incredible singer and has a lovely tone. Thanks for sharing your amazing talent" – Tony Green (5-star Facebook review)

"Watching Aspen at Twitchen House, Woolacombe. Really great voice, loving the songs. A very talented young lady." – Sean Stiddard (5-star Facebook review)

"Aspen recently performed at my wedding and I cannot recommend her highly enough. Not only does she do fantastic cover songs, this lady is extremely talented and writes her own music too! All our guests at the wedding commented on Aspens performance, they absolutely loved her as well!" – Emily Steele (5-star Facebook review)
