

at first sight

on Sunday, i'll promise to meet you where travellers dream medallion of my dark the captive in me knows, dawn comes after night i'll pass every hour, reading your face and you mine i've caged this life these verses i've longed to release

at first sight
i knew this would change our lives this time
happiness are you real?
this light
happiness are you real?

by Sunday, i'll need you to risk where lovers dare not go starlet of my skies hold fast to this moment, surrender to my fight would she brave my night sing the sorrow from these eyes i'm good for every end loyal to the last embers in your fire at first kiss your lips burned all my fears tangled in your sleep

happiness are you real?
dizzy with bliss
happiness are you real?

don't you know how i feel?
