

CaraTrom

CaraTrom is the stage name of Tim Baldwin, a Denver-based singer-songwriter who has an eclectic acoustic Irish sound with strong bluegrass/Americana overtones with engaging lyrics and melodies. He focuses on guitar-driven songs about life and love, with the occasional banjo and ukelele just to liven things up a bit. Most songs are striking originals, with a few covers with unique twists thrown in now and then.

“CaraTrom” is a Gaelic word that means "bold friend", which is the literal Germanic origin of "Baldwin" from the Middle Ages.

Tim would love to help out with charity events and fundraisers so let him know if he can help!

Enjoy the music and Slainte!
