

NIKOS PAPADOGIORGOS

SHORT BIO

Nikos Papadogiorgos is a Greek composer, orchestrator and pianist currently living and working in Paris, France. He studied classical and jazz piano, classical and jazz harmony and took lessons on counterpoint. He also studied film direction as he pursued his interest in visual arts.

He has composed music for documentaries, theater, important public events, corporate videos, TV spots, audio theater CDs, CDs accompanying children's books and more.

In 2012 he started focusing on setting lyrics and poetry to music and in December 2013 he won the 2nd prize at the most prestigious Greek songwriting competition. A steady workflow has led to the release of two albums with songs: the studio album, entitled "Staurodromi" (Crossroads), which contains 9 songs and a live album, entitled "Nikos Papadogiorgos – 8 songs", which contains recordings from the concert/play "16 Mirrors".
