

Azz

Keyboardist, songwriter, singer and sound innovator Azz makes soulful music with layers of moody melodies, vivid harmonies and exciting elements of Pop, Contemporary R&B and Electro Soul.

He combines a rich array of cutting-edge synthesizer effects and retro electronic instruments like the Vocoder and Talkbox.

Azz's soul-filled voice adds an intimate texture to his work that invites others into his inner world.

Following the release of his third single in May 2020, 'I'm Not Ready' was played nationally on Tom Robinson's BBC 6 radio show (BBC Introducing London) with positive reviews and continued to be aired on many local radios in the UK and elsewhere.

His latest single 'Telepathy' deals with the chemistry that some people are lucky to experience with one another. Telepathy is about this special bond, like being on the same wavelength, knowing what the other person is thinking or finishing each other's sentences.

Born and raised in Nice, France, Azz's passion for music-making was ignited during his childhood when he first came face to face with a Yamaha PSS 11, which introduced him to the infinite capabilities of digital pianos, keyboards, synthesizers and other electronic instruments.

He began experimenting with catchy melodies he heard on the radio, television and in films, gravitating towards New

Jack Swing, R&B, rock, pop, reggae, funk, disco and specifically the genius of style-and-genre defining artists like Stevie Wonder, Earth Wind & Fire, the Jackson Five, Prince Daft Punk and Zapp, whose groundbreaking use of the Talkbox and mingling of many genres continues to take root deep in his work.

Azz felt his singing voice emerging and discovered his own ability to craft original songs, which continued to expand when he studied music in London.

He became proficient in the studio, writing and recording with acoustic instruments and soaking up the art of raw music making as his love for improvisation and unconventional electronic instruments deepened and he established his own musical identity.

Seeking a multi-cultural landscape filled with many sights and sounds, he moved to London, where he continues to live and create.

Azz' spirit of adventure and unending passion for music across a broad spectrum shines through in his original songs and has led him to work with a diverse variety of artists across styles and genres, including soul artists such as Glenn Jones, Steve Arrington, Archie Bell or more recently with up and coming drill artist M1llionz. He has also appeared with Alexandra Burke, Lianne La Havas, Jess Glynne and Nate James and has collaborated with in-demand session players for artists such as Stormzy, Emilie Sandé, Ledisi, Craig David, Pixie Lott and more.

'Telepathy' is now available on Spotify, Apple Music, iTunes, TikTok, Google Play/YouTube, Amazon, Pandora, Deezer,

Tidal, Napster, Twitch, iHeartRadio, ClaroMusica, Saavn, Anghami, KKBox, MediaNet, Instagram/Facebook and Shazam.
