

DANTE

Combining acoustic indie folk and soul, Dante is known for his expressive vocals and multi-instrumental style. Dante's live performances include his contemporary take on the one man band in which he simultaneously plays a number of instruments. Switching between guitar and mandolin, he accompanies himself by playing bass, harmonica and percussion all at once. Coming from the folk tradition, Dante's award winning compositions have thoughtful lyrics that often tell a story or speak to a person's life experiences.

Described by The Independent as a "multi-talented musician," he was chosen to star in Levi's "What's True" commercial campaign. Newsday named Dante in their article, "Best of the Hamptons" and he was voted Best Male Musician by the popular Hampton's publication, Dan's Papers. He has opened for such artists as Ben Folds, Guster, and America.

Dante is gearing up to release an album in April 2019 and will be touring the US this summer.
