

The Song

It's only but the moment
and then the moment's gone one moment to the next earth sings it's song

can we stop to listen and hear the song around and find that it's within us and belongs in every sound are you stuck in vast? lost inside the future, lost inside the past how often it must happen little moments gone by hidden by the mind till we see they are unreachable in the sky

one must stop to listen to hear that you're the song and to whom you have been listening is always singing right along
