

Orlando Dog Training Club presents: Fresh Food for a Healthy Dog

Join author and canine nutritionist, Lew Olson, Ph.D. for a one day seminar that helps dog owners learn how to prepare home cooked or raw diets for their dogs, including adult, puppy and senior meals.

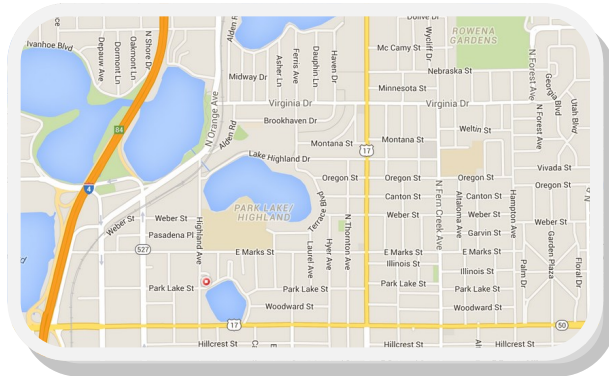

The seminar will also cover meal preparation for special health needs, including (but not limited to) renal, liver, diabetes, urinary stones, cancer and diets for canine athletes to help with endurance and performance events!

Questions welcomed!

When: Saturday, March 5, 2016
8:30 AM to 4:30PM

Where: Florida Hospital Association
307 Park Lake Circle
Orlando, FL 32803

Cost: $85/person
(includes continental breakfast & lunch)

About Our Presenter: Lew Olson began her research on canine nutrition in the 1980's. She began sharing her ideas with other dog owners on the internet in the early 1990's, and writes a monthly email newsletter on Canine Nutrition and Health for B-Naturals. Her articles have been published in numerous dog journals in the United States, as well as New Zealand and Switzerland. She currently lives in Texas and enjoys showing and training her Rottweilers, is an AKC dog judge and continues her research in canine nutrition and health issues.

Cut here and mail to: Mary-Lynn Jensen, 13100 Lake Butler Boulevard, Windermere, FL 34786.
Questions: email to: MaryLynnJensen13@gmail.com

Count me in!

Fresh Food for a Healthy Dog with Lew Olsen, Ph.D.

March 5, 2016 8:30 to 4:30 Florida Hospital Association, 307 Park Lake Circle, Orlando, FL 32803

(Make checks payable to ODTG)

Name: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Pre-Order your copy of Raw and Natural Nutrition for Dogs for $20 here and pick it up at the seminar.

Number of copies requested: _____