

Leaping Lulu Bio:

Leaping Lulu is a neo-traditional Irish folk band based in Logan, Utah, featuring Sara Gunnell on fiddle, Liz Fallis on flute and piccolo, Don Anderson on guitar and cittern, and Kent Braddy on vocals, bodhran and cajon. Leaping Lulu adopted its name from a jig composed by Greg Boardman. In addition to their solo concerts and "Celtic Night" collaborations with Inishfre Irish Dance, Leaping Lulu is highly regarded for their Contra Dance music. Leaping Lulu has recorded five albums, The Walk Home (2003), High Road Low Road (2005), The Moving Cloud (2008), Into The West (2010) and Celtic Night Live (2014). Highlights from past engagements include performances at the Salt Lake Arts Festival, Park Silly Sunday Market, Sundance Film Festival, Celtic Stew Irish Music Festival, Thanksgiving Point Highland Games, Malad Welsh Festival, Logan Summerfest, Ogden "Talent in the Park", Utah Irish Music Festival, collaboration with Alasdair Fraser & Natalie Haas, and broadcasts on KRCL-FM, KUSU, and NPR's "The Folk Sampler." See www.leapinglulu.com for more information.