

If you are submitting music, please note the following information.

By submitting your songs via e-mail, you and the station owner, Ohio Media School ("OMS") agree as follows:

1. The songs you submit are your original work and/or are controlled by you and you alone, and are not subject to any copyright or royalty obligations with respect to any performing rights society such as ASCAP, BMI, SESAC. If anyone else successfully proves that they in fact wrote the songs submitted, or otherwise have rights to royalties in them, you will pay OMS for any losses suffered as a result.
2. By submitting your songs, you are granting OMS the non-exclusive perpetual right to broadcast the songs on internet-based or terrestrial radio stations and to use the songs for promotional and/or educational use. You do not give up any part of the ownership or copyright you hold in the songs, and OMS agrees that whenever and however your songs are used, your name or your band's name will be announced, displayed on screen, or otherwise conveyed to the listener/viewer. You retain the right to revoke this non-exclusive license at any time upon 30 days' prior written notice sent to fknight@beonair.com.
3. You warrant that the files submitted on this site do not contain viruses, worms, or other malicious code, and agree that you will be responsible for any losses incurred by OMS in the event that malicious code is present.
4. OMS has the sole and absolute discretion as to whether or not the songs you submit will be played on its radio stations or otherwise used in accordance with this agreement. Submissions will be reviewed as to content, recording quality, length, and appropriateness for particular air programs and other uses.
5. OMS has the right to modify these terms from time to time for new submissions.
