

Another Lonely Sailor

Well your mother told me
To another you took fancy
When I was off to sea
Now you won't marry me
I was so sure about it
And I never doubted
Now I scream and shout about
How blind I could be

On the dock
We said our goodbyes
You kissed me once
You kissed me twice
And you never left my mind
Every day was sunshine
I've been on the seven seas
Now you cut me to my knees
Another pint and I'll sail away
Forever from my home

You told me that you loved me
Oh dear, how deceiving
Now I'm just another lonely
Sailor on these streets
Is it any wonder
Each day that I loved her
Felt the power and the thunder
And the rolling of the sea

On the dock
We said our goodbyes
You kissed me once
You kissed me twice
And you never left my mind
Every day was sunshine
I've been on the seven seas
Now you cut me to my knees
Another pint and I'll sail away
Forever from my home, my home

I can't help but despair
Our sweet love affair
If I could only touch your hair
I'd be where I belong
