Citadel House is an independent record label working primarily with Newfoundland artists to bring their unique talent to a broader audience. “We are delighted to be able to connect Tonia to her Newfoundland roots as part of the Citadel House family and we look forward to working with her as she brings her vision to a new audience,” — Dean Stairs, Citadel House.

Tonia’s upcoming albums shine a spotlight on two of Newfoundland’s most talented musicians, opera soprano Georgina Stirling, the “Nightingale of the North,” and the late folk hero, Ron Hynes. Her release of Ron Hynes’ song, Marie, written about the prima donna, has been an integral piece in bringing Georgina Stirling into the 21st century.

CBC NL has highly praised Tonia for her work to honour and revive the life and legacy of Georgina Stirling (also known to international audiences as Marie Toulinguet). Ms. Stirling was Newfoundland’s first opera singer, becoming a world-renowned soprano throughout Europe and the United States in the late 19th Century. In 2017, Tonia was inspired to produce a remarkable tribute concert called, Nightingale Sings. The show has toured extensively throughout Newfoundland and beyond in cities across North America including Toronto, Ottawa, and Miami. In 2018 she was awarded a Canada Council for the Arts grant for this significant and historical work.

This year, Tonia celebrates the publishing of her debut book “The Heart’s Obsession – An Intimate Biography of Newfoundland Songstress Georgina Stirling” by Flanker Press Ltd, coauthored with her grandfather, veteran Newfoundland author, Calvin D. Evans, and will return this fall for the book launch and accompanying concerts across the island.

Tonia is the visionary founder of a non-profit organization, Wish Opera/Arts, and is a fierce advocate for celebrating and nurturing Canadian artists of all genres as they achieve their individual artistic goals with her sought-after programs including the Artist's Journey and the popular 'Artist's Spotlight' interview series. www.WishArts.ca

Tonia graduated with a Bachelor of Voice Performance from the University of Western Ontario. She continues to train and hone her craft with voice teacher, Manny Perez, in Miami. She is also certified as a practitioner in Neuro-Linguistic Programming.

“What really distinguishes Tonia Evans Cianciulli (... apart from a gravity-defying voice of such warmth, and majesty, it’s amazing she hasn’t patented goosebumps...) – is her ability to invest in any song with authentic emotion no matter the genre.” – Kimberly Hughes, Toronto Journalist.

“A warm lyrical soprano with a beguiling turn of phrase.” – Maestro Kerry Stratton, Toronto Concert Orchestra
