LYRICS

*Upward arcing, gently searching
She's a tough world, much blood will spill
She's a tough world, much blood will spill
What a world this world, beauty can be touched
Out of blind belief
What a world this world, evil can be matched
With a lover's greed
Melodies in harmony, the wind kicks up
Many to protect, much blood will spill
Many to protect, much blood will spill
What a world this world, beauty can be touched
Out of blind belief
What a world this world, evil can be matched
With a lover's greed
Two people hugging, trying to be one
Two people praying
Wanting to understand (just trying to understand)
What a world, what a world
What a beautiful world, when there are two of you
What a world, what a world
What a beautiful world, when there are two of you
Golden fuzzy flower, bubbly purple mist
The opposition is strong, much blood will spill
The opposition is strong, much blood will spill
Two people hugging, trying to be one
Two people praying
Wanting to understand (just trying to understand, needing to understand)*
