

I'm Going Home

Schnebelen/Braunagel

Album: Cry No More

Danielle Nicole

Left me at the crossroads, tears in my eyes
Left me at the crossroads, left me there to die
You said it was water so I drank it down
You said it was water so I drank it down
Said

you gave me water

But what you left me

was Red Devil Lye

Fell that bitter taste upon my tongue, and a burning deep inside

Fate is sealed there's no where left to run from the shadow creeping up behind
Said you gave me water so I drank it down

Said you gave me water so I drank it down

Said you gave me water

But what you left me

Was Red Devil Lye

I'm going Home

Will you put the coins in my eyes, after you set me free
Will you make sure when they put me 6 feet down It's buried

deep 'neath a Willow tree

I thought it was water so I drank it down

I thought it was water so i drank it down

Said you gave me

But what you gave me

Was Red Devil Lye

I'm going Home
