

Heart on the Line

Schnebelen/Braunagel

Album: Wrong Side Of The Blues - Trampled Under Foot

Rollin through the motions in this ocean of life
Fine with my feet on the ground
Down in my dungeon away from the light
Letting gears turn themselves around
I've been hurting so long, I know it's wrong to stay I don't belong

So tired of trying, I know it ain't right
Forcing smiles while I'm dying inside
In this time in this place with these tears on my face Still I can't bring myself to move on
I've been hurting so long, I know it's wrong to stay I don't belong
I put my heart out on the line, you left me hanging too many times

Woke up this morning, my eyes were dry
The sun was shining through
It's time for me to get out of this funk
Move away from you
I was hurting so long I know its wrong to stay, I don't belong
I was hurting so long, I know it was wrong I've got to tell you, I just can't go on I'm free and I'm strong, I won't stay
I know I don't belong
