Acoustic blues, jazz, soul and country music from Texas to the world.

Singing with a voice that goes all the way from uptown to lowdown, Ed Kliman is the real deal – timeless music presented as it should be.

His music has been heard around the world as part of radio and television ads, video games, theatrical productions, movies and mixed media, but his work in front of live audiences is where he really shines. His performing experience at venues ranging from “palaces to prisons and TV to turkey shoots” in the US, Canada and Europe is easily heard whenever he sings.

Ed was born to a traveling family and struck off on his own at 15. After living widely and wildly, he has settled near Austin, Texas but continues to perform and provide music for ventures in the US, Europe and Asia.

His music is available through the usual online outlets such as Amazon, iTunes, Spotify or directly from the Texas Music Forge website.
