

Mr. Antanov :

What a pleasure it was to work with you and learn from you this past weekend. Yes, my 3 inch heels are left out of performances now, with sadness. But I am glad to report my ability to feel control of the music has increased... probably because I can actually feel the ground beneath my feet. ☺

My playing is also improved continually thanks to the point of posture you stressed. My arms feel more control and are able to express more musically.

Learning to use our metronomes correctly and play from the heart - my favorite things. And especially to enjoy yourself and your music. May God bless you and hope you enjoyed your time here with us in Kilgore.

Sincerely,

Kelsie Sullivan
