

Lose My Mind – by Scott Wilcox

© December 2012

I texted you on a Sunday, thought I'd catch you at home alone

I called you on a Monday But there was no one home

Then I saw you on a Tuesday You didn't give me the time

Baby I've got to win your heart before I lose my mind

I drove over on a Wednesday, and I saw that you were gone.

Sent you flowers on a Thursday, thought I'd write you a song.

Then you called me on a Friday, you said you liked my rhymes.

Baby I've got to win your heart before I lose my mind

Chorus

I might be crazy, but I ain't dumb

I might be insane, but I can have some fun

I'd show you how to party And have a good time

Baby I've got to win your heart before I lose my mind

So it happened on a Saturday, you texted my phone

Later that same day, you called me at home

Somehow some way, you knew you were mine.

The day I won your heart I think you lost your mind.

