

Diane Hubka

Singer/guitarist, Diane Hubka is getting back to her musical “folk” roots, diving deep into the rich Americana melting pot to create her own interpretations of songs by John Prine, Emmylou Harris, Bob Dylan, Neil Young, and Johnny Cash. Growing up in the panhandle of Western Maryland, this Blue-Ridge Mountain-bred artist learned violin, trombone and guitar from an early age. After studying jazz guitar in college, she developed a passion for singing and playing jazz that would take her to New York and later Los Angeles, where she became a vital member of those jazz communities. With six internationally acclaimed CD’s, and performances throughout the US as well as Turkey and Japan, “she wraps her clear-as-mountain-stream sound around the songs with consistently winning results.” (JAZZTIMES) Award-winning vocalist Susie Glaze says “Diane gracefully integrates her jazz ‘chops’ into the folk and Americana genre with grand results!”
