

When Pigs fly

Lyrics: Trinelise Væring, music: Fredrik Lundin

There comes a time when men don't fight over ground when all our needs will be met when there's enough love to go around oh well eventually when pigs fly, and when fish drown in sea

when every child will be fed and the man in the bank says, "here you go, take what you need just go ahead"
oh well eventually

that is when not before, not until then will you realize,

will you see
that you have always loved me when will you realize

There comes a day
we all die old and satisfied cause what we set out to do is done by then theres peace all worldwide
oh well eventually

Solo

When will you realize,
will you see
when will you realize (will you ever real...)
will you see

yes it's a cold day in hell when pigs fly, yes I know I know very well
that is when
