

CURIMBA TRIO

Curimba Trio is the latest project of pianist and composer Sam Watts in collaboration with guitarist Jurandir Santana and percussionist Adriano Adewale. They play a lively mix of traditional Brazilian music and jazz, combining infectious Brazilian rhythms with virtuosic improvisation, creating captivating live performances. Their music features familiar samba and bossa nova combined with traditional rhythms from the north-east of Brazil (Baião, Ijexá, Frevo and more). The trio's members are all established performers and between them have performed with celebrated musicians including Gilberto Gil, Gal Costa, Bobby McFerrin, Jason Marsalis and Jean Toussaint.
