

I am looking to connect with those in merchandising and manufacturing - Eco friendly, altruistic, humanitarian outlets and resources. I intend to pursue the film and television industry more heavily. I want to write music for/work on projects that are meaningful and positive. I want to write songs for media projects meant to promote humanitarianism, love, unity, self empowerment. I want to be a part of this energy.

If I could go back in time, I would have had music licensed to and included in the soundtracks to such movies as "CRASH," "Pay It Forward," "What The Bleep Do We Know" and "The Pursuit of Happiness." I would work with music artists such as the brilliant and beautiful India Arie; the lyrical genius Sting... I would work with Santana. I would align myself with Ellen Degeneres and yes of course, Oprah (laughs) - who doesn't want that right?

I can think of all that I desire to join forces with; and with this in mind, I can say that my "future plans," what you can "look forward to" is a committed effort to work with and reach these kinds of thinkers, creative humanitarians, outlets, etc...so that my music is not just "exposed on a larger scale" but exposed in deeply meaningful ways. It would mean nothing to me if it was empty success. It needs to have heart.

Thank YOU for listening, thank you for reaching out to me...thank you for crossing my path!
