

GOLONDRINA

She arrives unexpectedly to tell me what I feel without realizing that what she wants to give me is everything I ever dreamt of.

Wings! Freedoms! Excitement!
I want them!
Life! Melodies! Fantasies!
I have them in me!

Oh my swallow I have begun to love you,
Why didn't you leave when it started to rain?
Don't you see this winter does not belong to you?
I don't want to leave you, but you must part!

Oh my swallow you know our truth:
Our story is not meant to be.
This "you and me" does not exist and cannot go on,
Fly away, swallow, do not stay by me.

Logic, oh no, I will not listen to you.
I know your voice keeps me away from trouble.
Certainly in some near future, but today,
I won't, I won't, I won't, I won't
I won't, I won't, I won't!
I won't choose reason.
I won't choose reason.
I won't choose reason.

(instrumental)

I can tell you now that I miss your words in my ear giving sense to a present without equal.
Soon I realize how we get lost in roads that fate will never ever allow to blossom.
I am still searching for excuses to tell you that I am crazy for you and I don't want to say no.
I don't even know how to return to times where she wasn't part of my being.

Wings! Freedoms! Excitement!
I want them!
Life! Melodies! Fantasies!
I have them in me!

Oh my swallow I have begun to love you,
Why didn't you leave when it started to rain?
Don't you see this winter does not belong to you?
I don't want to leave you, but you must part!

Oh my swallow you know our truth:
Our story is not meant to be.
This "you and me" does not exist and cannot go on,
Fly away, swallow, do not stay by me!
By me!
