

Lyrics

Lift You Up

Words and music by Dean Richard, Copyright 2011

This is a song for the heavy hearted
For all the ones unlucky in love
I'll share your pain, I'll feel your sorrow
Come with me, let me lift you up

There is a place where your heart is free
There is a place where joy abounds
Feel the music deep inside you
Feel this song, let it lift you up

Chorus

Come now, let the music take you
Let it touch your soul, let it fill your heart
Let the sound of my voice ease your sorrow
Let it out, let me lift you up

Come away from the depths of darkness
Feel the light shining down from above
Walk in the sun, with your eyes closed, joyful
Come with me, let me lift you up

Bridge

You're not alone in feeling lonely
Not alone in the depths of pain
Not alone as you fight all the madness
Wondering how to get through the day
Not alone if worry 'bout money
Not alone someone near you has passed
Not alone thinking life is a struggle
Not alone can't get over the past
Not alone as you're looking for answers
Not alone in wondering why
Not alone if you fear getting older
Not alone 'cause you don't want to die

Chorus

Chorus

Credits

Dean Richard - Lead vocal, harmony vocals, acoustic guitars, triangle, percussion

Tracy Hannemann - Harmony and backing vocals

Tammy Rogers-King - Violin

Jimmy Nichols - Keyboards

Troy Lancaster - Electric guitar

Eli Beard - Bass

Larry Beard - Acoustic guitar

Greg Morrow - Drums

Russ Pahl - Pedal steel

Basic tracks recorded at Beard Music Group, engineered by Jim DeBlanc, tracking session produced by Larry Beard. Violin overdub recorded at Beard Music Group and engineered by Rob Hoffman. Vocals, percussion, and Dean's acoustic guitar overdubs recorded at Dean Richard Studio and engineered by Dean Richard. Mixed by Dave Buchanon and Dean Richard. Mastered by Andrew Mendelson.