Suspicious

Words and music by Dean Richard, Copyright 2012

I am suspicious of you baby, and all that you do
I am suspicious of you baby, and all that you do
Coming home at four o'clock in the morning when bar time is two Yeah, bar time is two

You say you were with a friend, met her downtown at ten
You say you were with a friend, met her downtown at ten
But she's been calling here all night long, wondering where you have been So where have you been?

Your lipstick is smeared, hair is matted on your head
Your lipstick is smeared, hair matted on your head
You can't look me in the eye, I know you're lying again
Then you tell about your other man
How you were with him instead

Solo

I am suspicious of you baby, and all that you do
I am suspicious of you baby, and all that you do
I suspected another man, and now I know that it's true
After what I've seen tonight, suspect I have to leave you
After what I've seen tonight, I know I have to leave you

(Spoken)

I had good reason to be suspicious
No fairy tale here
I guess you're just the cheatin' kind
