

ROCKETSHIP • Filmmakers

ALFRED THOMAS CATALFO • Writer / Producer / Director

Rocketship is the fifth short film from Writer/Producer/Director Alfred Thomas Catalfo. In 2006, Catalfo's film The Norman Rockwell Code, a 35-minute spoof of The Da Vinci Code, made The Must List ("Ten Things We Love This Week") in Entertainment Weekly, had more than one million online views in less than three months, and was selected by the Library of Congress for inclusion in its Film Collection that features works by American filmmakers chosen on the basis of their historical, cultural or aesthetic significance. Catalfo, an attorney and member of the Screen Actors Guild, has been a winner or finalist in 27 major screenwriting competitions with four different feature film scripts. His previous film, Bighorn, won the Online New England Film Festival. His website is www.catalfo.com

GLENN GARDNER • Producer

Glenn Gardner won the prestigious Palme d'Or, the top overall award award, at the 2006 Cannes Film Festival as producer of the film Sniffer. Gardner has an MFA from Columbia University in Film Producing.

CHARLES CARPENTER • Producer

AMANDA DUQUETTE • Producer

JEFF SPIRES • Director of Photography

MICHAEL BERNARD • Editor

FUEL CREATIVE • Editing Facility

CHARLES CARPENTER • Music

BEN HEALD • Gaffer and 2nd Unit Director of Photography

ALEX KNUUTTUNEN • First Assistant Camera

DAN DEERING • Additional Camera and Colorist

MARK GAGNON • Location Sound

BILL BOURDON • Production Manager

JEFF SPIRES • Visual Effects