ANNOUNCE NEW ALBUM, RETURN, FROM THOMASINA WINSLOW

Legendary Delta Blues Artist Drops Third Solo Album March 19

— FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE —

NEW BALTIMORE, NY, March 2, 2020 — 2019 EDDIES (Capital Region Thomas Edison Music Awards) Blues Artist of the Year nominee Thomasina Winslow finishes the work she began with her debut album in her third full-length solo release, RETURN, dropping March 19.

Winslow's first album, ESSENTIAL TUNES, was her production company's first solo venture, and was released in 2002. Her sophomore album, FIRST THINGS FIRST with Nick Katzman, was produced in Germany and released in 2010.

RETURN is a collection of nine tracks that represent what she characterizes as the second half of her set list which she feels has brought her to growing acclaim and exposure. "These are the songs that got me here, and I just really felt the need to record them and document their place in my history as an artist," says Winslow.

Her arrangements and loving re-workings of this collection of songs pays homage to the style of such Delta Blues masters as Mississippi John Hurt and Willie Brown, and are a testament to her own legacy, which she shares with her father the late Tom Winslow. In RETURN, Winslow is reaching back to her past, while at the same time driving this music along her own path to create a cutting-edge sound!

RETURN drops March 19 and is available for sale and download through her website and CD Baby. The album will be available for sale on compact disc, for more information, including pre-orders, visit thomasinawinslow.com.
