

Bundy Browne and the Espresso Rhythm Section

Bundy Browne and Espresso form a musical fusion combining Rhythm & Blues with Americana styles and Country rock plus songs from our new CD.

Bundy Browne – Acoustic guitar, mandolin, vocals

Bundy began his professional career playing mandolin for the Bay-Area based county band, Shagbark Hickory. His musical styles can be traced back to bluegrass and blues. He's played along-side notable musicians such as Deacon Jones, John Lee Hooker, Robben Ford and Larry Carlton.

Rick Sigman – Acoustic guitar, Vocals

Dennis Harper – Fretless Bass, Vocals

Casey Smiley - Drums

In 1978, Rick, Dennis, and Kurt Keffer formed the acoustic/electric jazz fusion band "Espresso". Their debut album "First Cup" and follow up CD, "2nd Wind" received rave reviews and the album's extensive airplay led to the band playing shows with such artists as Albert King, Taj Mahal, Roy Buchanan, Tom Scott, Robben and Mark Ford, David Lindley, Larry Carlton, Norton Buffalo, The Dixie Dregs, Eric Johnson and Stevie Ray Vaughn.
