

COMING HOME

I've seen 'em come
And I've seen 'em go
Seen the great foundations rise
And then hit the ground
And they're all gone
Gone Home

I've seen the Blue Eyed Virgins
And the dreams they keep
And the life long passions
That knocked them off their feet
And they're gone
Gone Home

Life lives w/victories and defeats
So when the time has come
And the numbers run
Just where you going to be?

Life lives with mysteries and beliefs
The Last time that I walked on the water/ it all came back to me

I opened up my eyes so wide so I could see the world inside
Like a lion I keep on trying
Like the tiger on the pillow
It's Getting Bigger
Like a Ghost I float
Fly from coast to coast
And nothing ever matters 'til it all turns real again
I said nothing really matters 'til it all turns real.
