

C-instr.

You're Always Older Than Your Picture

Andy Fite

Slow swing ♩ = 84

The musical score is written in 4/4 time with a key signature of one flat (Bb). It consists of seven staves of music, each with a line of lyrics underneath. Chord symbols are placed above the notes. The score includes various musical notations such as triplets, slurs, and dynamic markings like a tempo. The lyrics are: "You're always older than your picture. There's no-thing to do. Just take an-oth-er. And in a year when you see it. You will see it is-n't you. So just go a-head and use that one from nine-teen nine-ty-two. You're always older than your picture. And bet-ter and wis-er and yet you are still the same. Your eyes of blue, your kis-ses too. You still can do it to me dear. I love you. But still I love that pic-ture."

1                                  F6                                  Dm7                                  G7
You're al - ways old - er than your pic - ture                                  There's

3                                  Gm7                                  C7                                  F6                                  F7                                  B♭Maj7                                  B♭m6 no-thing to do                                  Just take an - oth - er                                  And in a year when you see it                                  You will

6                                  Am7                                  D7                                  G7 see it is - n't you                                  So just go a - head and use that one from 8                                  Gm7                                  C7                                  F6                                  Dm7                                  G7 nine-teen nine-ty - two                                  You're al - ways old - er than your pic - ture                                  And a tempo

11                                  Gm7                                  A7                                  Dm                                  Em7 A7 bet - ter and wis - er and yet you are still the same                                  Your

13                                  Dm                                  A7                                  Dm                                  Dm/C                                  Bm7-5                                  B♭dim eyes of blue, your kis - ses too. You still can do it to me dear. I love you                                  But still I love that pic - ture.

15                                  Am7                                  D7                                  Gm7                                  C7                                  F6

