

For Lillian

From the album "Pocket Change" by Berkley Hart Written by Lizzie Wann & Jeff Berkley

Lillian spills her coffee she stains her morning
summons a storm
holds the key

Lillian smells of spice a gypsy runner
the heart of summer
rolls the dice

chorus
Lillian steals your heart without trying Lillian makes you fall til you're flying she's alright when she's all wrong but then you do it all over again
for Lillian

Lillian claims her space
she makes her case
leaves no trace
holds the cards

Lillian's flame burns higher she breathes fire
burns your skin
but warms your heart

chorus
