

If I Lost You

Calman Hart

If I lost you tomorrow
If I woke up and you were gone, could I carry on
Would your love leave me paralyzed
Or would it pick me up and make me strong, make me strong
If I had to live without you, would it be enough to have known your love

We were dancing in the sand
As we watched the ocean come and go, the night was cold
Would the memory of that moment
Be enough to take me back there again if I needed a friend
If I had to live without you, would it be enough to have known your love

Is it something that I own
Do I hold it in my heart
Will it be there for me if ever I'm alone
Or is it something I've just borrowed
Like the light of a star
Do I lose it all forever if you go

If I had to live without you, would it be enough to have known your love
Would it be enough to have known your love
