

All of These Walls

Jeff Berkley

I know your secrets
I seen your pain
And I seen the sacrifices
That you pretend you made

And I believe the shackles around my feet
Are your disgrace
And the terrors of father hood
Too much for you to take

I wanna be free to love
I want to rise above
All of these crazy feelings
Inside my head

And I know the reason
I know the why
I understand the method
And I know it wasn't kind

But just like the new bird must be taught to ride the skies
Only when you push him off will he begin to rise

I wanna be free to love
I want to rise above
All of these crazy feelings
Inside my head

And I want to know the way
Learn to accept the things you say
All of these walls
All of these walls
Are going away

It's too late for revisions
What's done is done
No more to say

But if you worried
That my absence is in vain
Time heals wounds that way

Now I keep your secrets
And I feel the pain
And I make the sacrifices
That you have always made

I believe the shackles round my feet
Have gone away
If I believe in fatherhood
There's nothing in the way

[Chorus 2 Reprise]
