

Artist: Tangelica Dominae
Single: “Boss Moves”

While Cardi B and Nicki Minaj are embroiled in beef, another femcee is darting straight for the crown. She is North Carolina’s own, Tangelica Dominae; and in 2019, she’ll be making “Boss Moves” to become the new Queen of Rap. “Boss Moves” is a stark booming anthem. Her fearless intention to rupture the rap game translates perfectly through the sinister bounce of its backing progression. Hellish, is the orchestral hit that layers these melodies; giving way to Tangelica’s tenacious bars and an impending 808’s pound. The moment that 808 impacts, our Raleigh rapper is launched into a tirade of lyrics and flow. Through this earth-shattering, speaker-rattling banger, Tangelica is empowering to her fellow, independent ladies. She embodies a boldness and bravado in the booth, that every woman listening can applaud. Letting every one of them know they can make the same “Boss Moves” she is. For, if our Southern powerhouse continues making anthems like this, it won’t be long before Cardi and Nicki are ghosts of the past.
