

BIBLE READING PLAN – Adapted by Eric Redmond from M’CheyneWith Psalms and Proverbs added

If you follow the two readings on the right, you’ll go through the NT and Psalms every year, and through the OT every 2 years. Don Carson has devotional commentary on one of these chapters each day in For the Love of God, Vol 2. You can order it at Christianbook.com or Amazon.com (a few dollars cheaper at CBD, but the Kindle version is a LOT cheaper than any print version). You can read his Vol 1 (to get a taste of his writing) for free as a blog at <http://blogs.thegospelcoalition.org/loveofgod/>. I’d encourage you to use something like “sticky notes” to keep track of where you are in the Bible, so you don’t spend too much time looking up where you left off. If you’re doing the additional Proverbs on the left, mark verses that particularly strike home. Near the end of the year (marked “Favorites”) there’s time to go back through those again. Near the end of the year, the Psalms to the left repeat some of the Psalms that are most often quoted in the NT. Sundays are underlined.
