

“Brown’s flair for delivering confident dramatics expand into a fleshed-out, keyboard-led wonderland of sound. She has a voice that curls like a sorcerer’s spell, conjuring strange and beautiful imagery among all the instrumentation.” – Vue Magazine

BIOGRAPHY

Lyra’s music is an eclectic blend of indie-pop and piano whimsy, focusing on compelling, surreal lyrics.

After releasing a series of home recordings, Lyra would enter the studio to record her debut record, The Language of Eyes, in early 2015. By the end of the year, the album would finish at #7 on the CJSR Radio top 300 albums of 2015, and Lyra would garner four award nominations at the 2016 Edmonton Music Awards.

The next few years would prove fruitful as Lyra would release her most popular song to date, A Little Vulture Told Me, accompanied by a continuous shot pop-up video for the song. She would go on to win in three categories at the 2018 Edmonton Music Awards: Music Video of the Year, Adult Alternative Recording of the Year, and Singer/Songwriter of the Year, and the vulture video would continue its success by winning best music video at the 2018 Alberta Film & Television Rosie Awards.

In late 2020, Lyra released her sophomore record, Tin Girl. An album of unique musical style and poetic expression, giving the listener new insight into her world.
