Wall/Ceiling Washes & Uplighting

Consider this the foundation for your event! The simplest and most dramatic way to transform any room with light is by uplighting the perimeter, and washing the space with light. Uplighting can be used on walls, ceiling and architectural details to create a wash of light and color. Uplighting can be any color of your choice. Most clients choose a color that compliments linens, floral arrangements or overall color palette. The result is a subtle, magical and romantic glow. You can also choose from a variety motifs or textures. Whatever mood you would like to create, lighting will pave the way.

Pin-spotting

A pin-spot is a very sharp , focused accent light directed at your table centerpieces. Pin-spots not only help illuminate the room but they make all your guests' tables glow with light. If your flower arrangements are an important design element, pin-spotting goes a long way in making sure they get noticed. Shed some light on your most important features!

Accent lighting

An accent light can be a pin-spot or larger light fixture that will bring attention to your important features, highlight photo & display tables and emphasize architecture. There's nothing worse than a bar, gift table or wedding cake with no light.

Dance floor lighting

Effective dance floor lighting can help invite party guests to fill the dance floor and bring your event to life; from simple color chases to Spinning Mirror Ball.

Illuminated Drapery uses uplighting to bring a room to life. Color lighting will bring a "WOW factor" to your reception like no other feature can, and with the ability to change colors at any time we can help create and enhance the mood of the room at your whim!

Video & Love Story Projection is a very tasteful and entertaining way to personalize your event; video projection on a large screen presentation, showing everyone why you fell in love!

Audio Reinforcement. Don't forget about this! Having a useful and adequate sound system is the best way your guests will hear your vows during the ceremony. A well placed sound system and a thoughtful choice of music will create comfortable and festive environment for all your guests.
