

Saxon Moon is one of the highest drawing music acts on the Renaissance circuit. Based out of Houston, TX they are currently on tour throughout the United States.

Dubbed “Acoustic Celtic Metal”, and their songs as “Blackmore’s Night meets Metallica unplugged” by fans, Saxon Moon has been featured at the TEXAS RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL,, SCARBOROUGH RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL, THE CASTLE OF MUSKOGEE, Pennsylvania Renaissance Festival and is the headlining music act at SHERWOOD FOREST FAIRE. Also, Saxon Moon performs at THE OHIO RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL, and THE KENTUCKY HIGHLAND RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL and has performed several times at Sherwood Forest Celtic Festivals, The Ohio Celtic Festival and Central Kentucky Celtic Festival and Highland Games. Saxon Moon was also a featured act at The Dallas Museum of Art Late Night After Hours Music Showcase. They have also extensively played many live venues and pubs around the country when they can break away from their busy festival and faire circuit.

Saxon Moon’s music can be found on Pandora Radio, Spotify, Itunes, Amazon, CD baby, and youtube.

#4 worldwide on Ranker for The Best Medieval Folk Bands/Artists
<http://www.ranker.com/list/medieval-folk-rock-bands-and-artists/reference>

Sherwood Forest Fair uses Saxon Moons song Harom Skarum for their TV and Radio Commercials shown all over Central Texas. They also use Various Saxon Moon songs for their promotional youtube videos.