SUMMARY DESCRIPTION:

With millions of records sold between them (Cynthia Johnson, Linda Jo Rizzo and 'Vanelle') we see these artists together for the first time ever on this unique collaboration. With a blend of vocal harmonies and infectious four on the floor, this dance track was written, performed, and produced by the artists.

DESCRIPTION:

Cynthia Johnson saw double platinum success with Lipps Inc.'s 'Funkytown' which charted No. 1 in multiple territories world wide and saw over 2 million records sold within the first 2 months.

Linda Jo Rizzo also saw top of the chart success both in the U.S. and internationally with The Flirts' 'Passion', 'Calling All Boys' and more.

Vanelle (Elizabeth Petzold) also saw world wide chart success with dance hits 'Tell Me' and 'Set Me Free', and wrote for Karen Silver, another charted Canadian act.

They continue to write, record, perform and produce today. At the Patrick Miller Festival 2019 in Mexico City, they met for the first time. The festival saw a crowd of 12,000+ enthusiastically welcoming their music from the past, and it set the wheels in motion for a potential collaboration.

"We instantly bonded, and with our personalities and shared experiences from the past, both good and bad business wise, wanted to do something together for the sheer fun of it, and joy of music and dance."
