

RUBBER BALL

D
this here's the story of a toy I dearly loved
I lost it a lot but then it would show up
G D
how it bounced back no one could recall
G D G D
I missed my toy when it was not near
G D A
but pretty soon it would reappear
D
rubber ball rubber ball

I lost it in the juniper bush one day
I was sad to think that the rubber would decay
G D
down there all summer and all fall
G D G D
late last night what a sight
G D A
it was back in my room in the pale moonlight

D
Dad was mowing the lawn and he mowed it down
made a chop chop chop chop choppy sound
G D
he threw it in the trash but that's not all G D G D
ripped and torn it was back by the morn
G D A
store bought fresh like when it was born

I accidentally dropped it from a boat thought that the little ball would surely float

G D
I watched it sink away and get so small

G D G D
in about a week it was at my feet

G D A
soaking wet and staring at me that was the story of a toy I dearly loved all the times I lost it it showed up

G D
now I am all grown up big and tall

G D G D
as I write this song I feel real joy

G D A
cause there on my desk is my favorite toy
