

Nothing Else Will Matter

Verse 1

I know there's a Savior waiting
Wanting me to take His nail scarred hand
And I know I see my Jesus waiting
Longing just to carry me to that promise land
Now I've had questions in this life
That will be answered on the other side
And loved ones waiting there that I can hardly wait to see
And I dream about a beauty like I've never known before
But all of this grows dim
With just one thought of seeing Him

Chorus

When I fall at His feet
Grateful for His mercy
His presence will overwhelm
There will be no thought of anything
But the beauty of His face
I will melt in His embrace
With the world far behind
And the love of my life before me
Nothing else will matter

Verse 2

This life is only temporary
The tears I cry down here will soon be wiped away
My hope rests in life eternal
In a land that's filled with joy
We will never know pain
I've imagined many times
On the day I leave this world behind
I'll have so many things to tell Him
So much to thank Him for
But I know I'll stand in wonder when I reach the realm of glory
All my words will have escaped with just one glimpse of His sweet face

BRIDGE

I've sung the old song
We'll understand it better by and by
But on the day that I get home
Though it will all be answered
This life won't matter anymore
When I behold His face
Every thought will be erased
Oh but the beauty of my Savior
