

You Know

There's a secret I won't say but you know you know
Every truth must have it's day and you know you know

That this is but a lonely dream
A thing inside your mind
This is why, this is why

You're playing dumb but I can smell that you know you know
In your eye I see the tell and you know you know

That this is but a lonely dream
A thing inside your mind

Open up and let the love light shine upon you now
This is why, this is why

You seem fine but deep inside now you know you know
