They'll Come to the Cabaret

For these folks, life is a cabaret. Five local performers have been chosen to be among the 37 fellows for the O'Neill Theater Center's 10th Cabaret Symposium to be held next month at the theater's Waterford, CT home.

After auditions in New York, San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Minneapolis, Los Angeles, Chicago and Boston earlier this year, performers Will McMillan of Arlington; John O'Neil and Jan Peters, both of Brookline; Michael Ricca of Boston; and Nina Vansuch of Belmont were selected.

The Cabaret Symposium was created in 1989 by Ellie Ellsworth and Betsy White to train aspiring cabaret artists.
